VERDICT RESTS WITH GERMANY

Tension in Paris Over Foe Reply Recalls Eve of Declaration of War.

ALLIED ARMIES WAITING

Ready for Quick Action If Germans
Refuse to Sign as Hinted—Enemy Delegates Hooted as They Leave for Weimar.

Washington, June 18.—That President Wilson believes the Germans will sign the revised peace treaty is indicated in private dispatches here from the Paris White House.

Paris, June 18.—The tension in Paris, with peace or war to be determined before 7 o'clock next Monday evening, recalls that preceding the opening of hostilities in August, 1914.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau was en route to Weimar with a retinue of 73 German peace delegates to present to the national assembly the Allies' reply to the counterproposals, submitted at Versailles. The feeling of the French people was illustrated by the fact that when the Germans left the Hotel Des Reservoirs for their special train at 9:45 a crowd of 4,000 gathered outside, hooting and insulting the enemy representatives. This was the first demonstration against them in the weeks they have been in France.

Foe Not Expected to Sign.
The latest advices from Berlin and Weimar reiterate that Germany will not accept the revised treaty unless it contains important modifications. Through unofficial press reports the German government has been apprised from time to time of the alterations, and in this way already is in possession of the main concessions.

The optimism in Allied peace circles, which had been so noticeable in the last few days, has changed to a feeling of uncertainty as to whether the Germans will find the modifications sufficient to warrant acceptance. This attitude was reflected by the public, which eagerly scanned every printed word touching on the situation. There were no demonstrations in the streets and the people went about their business as usual, but the air was electric with a nervous tension as the citizens silently considered the one great question, "peace or war."

Allied Armies in Waiting.
To the eastward, beyond the battle-scarred regions over which the opposing armies fought and refought for four years, the armies of Marshal Foch waited on German soil for the word that will send them marching to Berlin or reduce them to the status of a mere police force. To the northward the great ships of the British navy, their movements shrouded in mystery, were known to be preparing for a quick descent upon the all but unprotected German coast if the verdict is war.

In Paris a little company of men, most unarmorial in appearance, had before them the plans for the economic blockade that will strangle Germany into submission if her leaders choose to continue the struggle. The long months of weary consideration of the details and technicalities of the peace settlement are over, so far as Germany is concerned. When Paul Dutasta, secretary of the Peace conference, handed the Allies' reply to the Germans—an incident entirely devoid of ceremony—the negotiations for the most momentous peace in history formally were brought to a close. The Germans were given just seven days to the minute in which to make known their decision. The verdict rests with them.

MAY START FOR U. S. JUNE 24

Wilson to Address Congress and Then Tour Country.

Washington, June 18.—President Wilson hopes to leave Paris for Washington on June 24 or 25 if the Germans sign the peace treaty.

Immediately after his arrival in Washington, the president will address congress. After clearing up pressing official business he will start on his "swing around the circle," early in July.

GERMAN CABINET IS SPLIT

Are Opposed.

London, June 18.—Seven members of the German cabinet favor signing the amended peace terms, while the other seven are opposed to signing, a Reuter dispatch from Berlin says.

Terror Letter Suspect Held.
Oakland, Calif., June 18.—John J. Weller, known as "Rev." Weller, is held in the city jail on suspicion of being the author of a recent threatening letter sent to Walter J. Petersen, captain of detectives, and letters of a similar nature to Senator Hiram Johnson and other Oakland and San Francisco persons.

TROOPS GUARDING BORDER

Villa Raids.

El Paso, Texas, June 18.—Every border city, town and hamlet along the Rio Grande in this district is being garrisoned by detachments of American troops by General Erwin to prevent the possibility of a Villa raid across the border in retaliation for the expedition against Villa's forces in Mexico.

Company G, Nineteenth Infantry, was ordered to Ysleta, Texas; Company H of the same command to Fabens, and Company I to Fort Hancock, Texas. In addition a machine gun platoon was ordered to Fabens.

ALIENS WILL BE DEPORTED

Those Arriving in England During War Must Leave.

London, June 18.—In consequence of riots at Liverpool, Cardiff and elsewhere, in which colored men have participated, the British government has decided to repatriate at the earliest possible moment all aliens who came to England during the war, according to the Daily Mail.

The bulk of these are Chinese, the others including Swedes, Danes and Norwegians.

Liquor Shipments To Cease

Louisville, Ky., June 18.—Liquid shipments on railroads by express companies after next Friday, literally will be nothing stronger than milk. The Railroad administration notified all distillers here that no whiskey would be received after that date.

Oarsmen to Meet at St. Louis

St. Louis, June 18.—The Central States Amateur Rowing association will hold its annual regatta here at Creve Coeur Lake, July 26 and 27, it was decided at a meeting.

Woman Aviator Who Will Try to Beat Men Fliers in Race Across Atlantic

"Why should all the honors for transatlantic flights go to men?" asks Miss Ruth Law, the little aviator who not so long ago made the first flight from Chicago to New York. She is preparing to make the attempt and says she is confident she can reach Europe. Construction of a machine that is being built especially for her is being rushed.

GERMANY FEARS CONSEQUENCE OF REJECTING THE TREATY

Throw Iron Ring Around Germany if Treaty is Not Signed

BY HENRY WOOD,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, June 18.—The Poles and Czechoslovaks will join the allies in throwing an iron ring around Germany in case she chooses war rather than peace according to authoritative information obtained today.

Marshal Foch plans in the event that the Germans refuse to sign the peace treaty to provide for the rapid contraction of this ring with the consequent over-running of Germany from three sides. The Poles would advance from the east, the Czechoslovaks from the south, and nearly a million French, British, Belgians and Americans from the west, while on the north the British fleet would bottle up Germany's ports and complete her economic helplessness.

Wilson Directs Amer- ican Vessels to Dis- regard British Orders

By LOWELL MELLETT
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Adinkerke, Belgium, June 18.—President Wilson, who with Mrs. Wilson and party arrived here today and was welcomed by King Albert and the queen, has ordered all American vessels unloading in German ports to disregard British orders for the re-establishment of the blockade against Germany. The president's action was understood to have been taken prior to his departure last night from Paris for Brussels. News of the British move was said to have aroused feeling, since the supreme economic council which has charge of blockade operations is said not to have been consulted.

Opponents of Daylight Saving Win First Test

(By United Press)

Washington, June 18.—The opponents of daylight saving in the house today won the first test vote on the repeal of the law when they ordered the immediate consideration of the repeal by a vote of 103 to 34.

BY CARL D. GROOT,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Weimar, Germany, June 18.—Germany fears the consequence of rejecting the revised peace treaty. This attitude was apparent in government circles today. Opposition to the pact has not abated one whit, following the receipt of the official summarization of the terms from Versailles by telephone and telegraph. But the prospect of allied invasion, an economic blockade, bolshevism, and food shortage was obviously the dominating influence here.

Weimar, June 18.—The German cabinet discussed the allies reply to the counter proposals in a conference late yesterday lasting several hours. At the conclusion the spokesman told the United Press "the inclination certainly is against signing the treaty. The only consideration is whether the fate of Germany would be worse through refusing to sign than through signing."

President Has Gone to Belgium

Paris, June 18.—President and Mrs. Wilson left here for Brussels at ten-thirty last night.

PLEADS AGAINST HASTY ACTION

Senator Knox Opens Debate on Resolution Dividing Covenant and Treaty.

FRAMING NEW PLANS

Opponents of League of Nations Are Considering Proposal to Introduce Joint Resolution Declaring War at an End.

Washington, June 18.—Leaders in congress are considering a joint resolution by which congress shall declare the war at an end and thus relieve itself of blame for prolongation of war conditions while the treaty is being discussed.

Announcement that Germany must act finally on the peace terms by June 23, diminished hopes of bringing the Knox resolution for separating the league of nations covenant from the treaty to a vote before the treaty is signed.

The result was a series of conferences among league opponents who had planned to try for a roll call to warn the peace delegates what opposition that league would encounter if submitted here intertwined with the treaty. Although no definite course had been agreed upon, it is likely there will be an effort to have a test vote on some collateral issue Friday or Saturday.

It is not considered likely that there will be an effort to bring the Knox measure technically before the senate until Friday, when Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee returns to the capital.

Knox Pleads Against Haste.

Senator Knox opened debate on his resolution with a plea against hasty acceptance of the league of nations. He cautioned that its ratification would mean a departure from American traditions.

The league, he declared, would inevitably result in a super-government empowered to act even upon the domestic affairs of member nations and to preserve for all time the territorial boundaries to be fixed by the peace treaty. He asserted the new Monroe Doctrine provision would efface that policy from international affairs and argued that the amendment adopted to cover withdrawal of league members would make such withdrawal "absolutely impossible."

The speech, which held closer attention than any previous utterance of the treaty controversy marked the beginning of debate on Mr. Knox's resolution, declaring the peace terms should be ratified without delay and the league of nations proposal left for late consideration.

"I ask for time," said the senator, "merely to consider whether or not, under the covenant as drawn, the power to put us at war will still rest with us or be placed in a body outside our own government and if placed outside, whether or not such lodging of the sovereign power is desirable."

League Provisions Wilfully Misrepresented

BY L. C. MARTIN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 18.—The rejection of the league of nations by the United States will set every other great nation in the world to devising means for the wholesale destruction of nations and would be an unpardonable crime against future generations, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, asserted today in a speech to the senate. Senator McCumber, chief republican proponent of the league, said that in his twenty years service in the senate he has known but "one instrument whose terms were so wilfully misinterpreted, and so grossly misrepresented."

American Casualties in Jaurez Fight

(By United Press)

Washington, June 18.—American casualties in the skirmishing around Jaurez were two civilians and two soldiers severely wounded, and eight soldiers and four civilians slightly wounded, General Cabell reported today. The civilian casualties were the result of shots fired into El Paso by Villistas.

CHANGES TOO SLIGHT

German Officials Considering Rejection of Treaty.

Allied Answer to Peace Terms Is Regarded at Berlin as an Ultimatum.

Berlin, June 18.—The Allies' answer to the German protest on the peace terms is considered here as nothing less than an ultimatum. Government circles are frankly dismayed and the same talk about impossibility of signing is heard which followed publication of the original terms.

The change in the terms, as indicated by the red interlines in the text of the old treaty, are so slight as to cause dismay among those who have had the opportunity of examining the document. The financial modifications are considered unimportant and objectionable and the terms governing Germany's admission to the league of nations are declared to be unsatisfactory.

It is considered possible that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, will not return to Versailles on account of the demonstration there against the delegates, some of whom were hit with stones. Herr Meyer's eye was injured by glass.

French Soldier Finds Text of the Peace Treaty Makes a Fairly Heavy Bundle

Treaties have been only scraps of paper to Germany. The one presented to her at Versailles for signature would make a real paper shower such as deluged New York City, when the armistice was signed, if it were torn up. This photograph shows a French soldier carrying a copy of the treaty to one of the Peace Conference buildings. The text, 50,000 words in length, makes a sizable bundle.

SCORES IRISH REPORT

Chief Secretary Replies to Walsh-Dunne Document.

British Official Asserts More Than Half the Points Are Without Foundation.

London, June 18.—A 12-page memorandum on the report made by Frank Walsh and Edward F. Dunne on conditions in Ireland has been issued by James L. MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland.

Of the 47 points MacPherson characterized 27 either as "absolutely without foundation," "gross exaggeration" or "absolutely untrue."

Regarding the allegation that five persons died of violence in prison, MacPherson declared there were no deaths.

In response to the charge there were 10 wilful murders by soldiers, the chief secretary said it was untrue and cited mitigating circumstances for several shootings.

MacPherson cited the report of Justice Dodd's special parliamentary commission, which investigated the treatment of Sinn Feiners in prison. Of the 29 points not directly characterized as untrue, about a dozen were branded as exaggeration or misstatements.

HOUSE ROBBED DURING PARTY

Thieves Secure Jewels Valued at More Than $25,000.

Chicago, June 18.—Jewels valued at more than $25,000 were taken from the residence of Mrs. Nellie Magnus Loeb, daughter of the late Adolphus Busch, during a whist party.

The residence occupies an eminence on Fullerton parkway overlooking Lincoln Park and the robbers worked within sight of the party on the front veranda. They looted the bedrooms on the upper story while the servants were engaged in serving the guests below.

OPPOSE RUSSIAN SOVIET REGIME

Delegates to A. F. of L. Convention
Refuse to Indorse American Recognition.

FAVOR IRISH REPUBLIC

General Strike Proposed for July 4 in Behalf of Thomas Mooney, Convicted of Dynamiting, Is Voted Down.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 18.—Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention, amid general uproar, refused to indorse recognition of soviet Russia, although urging recognition by the United States of the "existing Irish republic," and voted against the general strike proposed for July 4, in behalf of Thomas Mooney, convicted in connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion in San Francisco.

Discussion of Bolshevism developed when the resolutions committee reported a resolution asking withdrawal from Russia of American soldiers, but refused to report others demanding recognition of soviet Russia and lifting of the blockade of Russian ports. The committee refused to indorse recognition of the "soviet or any other form of government in Russia until the people of that country by constituent or other form of national assembly, shall have established a truly democratic form of government."

May Day Holiday Rejected.

The debate was said by veteran labor leaders to have been the most bitter they ever heard. It followed rejection by the convention over the strenuous protest of the radical group, of a proposal to change American Labor day from the first Monday in September to May 1, "as a bond of affection to unite all the world of labor in to universal brotherhood."

Samuel Gompers led the first against the May-day resolution, asserting that American Labor day was "a day for American labor, and not a 'political event' as it was in Europe."

Peter Bollenbacher of the Pennsylvania state federation, protested against rejection of his resolution, which called for the lifting of the Russian blockade, declaring he had offered it "on humanitarian grounds" to bring about relief of women and children. John P. Frey, Cincinnati, delegate of molders and chairman of the committee, replied that organized labor was going to insist on recall of all American troops from Russia, but that it could hardly favor sending food there for fear the Bolsheviks would get it.

"Many more men than we ever had in Russia," he added, "would be necessary, if it was to be insured that food and clothing sent there to relieve the masses would reach their proper destination."

REPORTED HELD IN BIG PLOT

Nine Radicals Said to Be Under Arrest in Chicago.

Chicago, June 18.—Nine radicals are reported under arrest in Chicago charged with complicity in a plot to spread a reign of terror on July 4. Others are under close espionage.

Complete plans of the R. & V. Wagner Ordnance company's plant in East Moline, Ill., one of the largest in the state, were found in the radicals' possession, it was learned. This and other important government works have been marked for destruction. Strategic spots where dynamite might be placed and remain for some time unobserved had been indicated in the diagrams, as had the position of guards and routes in and out of the stockade. The man to whose care the plans had been committed is in custody. Held in close confinement, he is expected ultimately to reveal the details of the conspiracy.

SINN FEINER IS SENTENCED

Countess Markievicz Given Four Months in Prison.

Mallo, Ireland, June 18.—Countess Georgiana Markievicz, Sinn Fein leader, and the only woman member of the British parliament, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment on charges growing out of disorders in Cork May 17. The countess was alleged to have incited tradesmen to boycott the police and to have participated in an unlawful assembly at Cork.

DEVASTATION WAS APPALLING

Varenne and Sermaize Cited as Examples of the Way in Which the Germans Willfully Destroyed Thousands of Towns.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Scores of inquiries are being made in Washington by professional and business men as to future opportunities for American enterprise in France, and in the rebuilding of the devastated territories. It seems probable that if France cannot supply from her own population engineers enough and enough men of the professions and trades generally to do the work of reconstruction, the United States may bear a considerable part of the work.

Many of the inquiries have come from discharged soldiers, officers and men, for the American Expeditionary forces contained both in the commissioned and non-commissioned ranks many men of a training which fits them for the work which is ahead.

Thousands of reams of manuscript have been written about the devastation in France, but no one who has not seen it can, by any chance, have a realizing sense of what this devastation is.
It is appalling, and a large part of it is devilish because it was caused by devilish intention without the slightest excuse of the necessities of warfare. When one has seen the terrible ravages in the fair land of France he readily can understand why the French people today are so insistent that full reparation shall be made by Germany.

Varenne an Example of Devilishness.

There are some interesting if comparatively small towns in France which the Germans destroyed without cause. These towns have high places in history. They contained priceless monuments of the past which today are level with the dust. Monuments can be rebuilt but they are not the same monuments, nor have they in them the interest which centers on things sacredly ancient.

Take the town of Varenne, for instance. It is close to the Argonne Forest. Varenne five years ago was a thriving place with several beautiful public buildings, a compellingly beautiful church, while all about the place was the nimbus of history. Today the only thing left in Varenne is the shell of an apothecary shop. The sign still is over the door. It is the only sign left in Varenne except the sign of German desolation.

Varenne is known to every reader of history as the place where Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette were arrested while on their flight from Paris to get out of the hands of the Revolutionists.
Louis and Marie were more than one half their way on the journey to safety when in Varenne an astute inn keeper recognized the party and caused their arrest, an arrest which later led to the death of both by the guillotine in what is now the place de la Concord, Paris.

I passed through Varenne last fall in the wake of the advancing army. Even amidst desolation one occasionally can find something to arouse a sense of humor. I saw a number of men disappearing down a ladder which led to a deep hole in the ground underneath the demolished apothecary shop. I wondered what they were doing down there. In a few minutes I found out. It seems that in the subterranean regions of this drug store the men had discovered something which occasionally is found in drug stores in dry territory in the United States. Apparently the Germans had overlooked it, and if my eyes did not deceive me the boys had made some find.

What the Huns Did to Sermaize.
There is the town of Sermaize in France. The Germans did everything but they could to Sermaize and everything that they could means that they entirely demolished it. It was a place of 5,000 inhabitants, beautifully laid out and with one of the most wonderful churches in all France.

When war had done its worst to Sermaize there was nothing left of it except the church tower, which was punctured with shell holes. It may be that there were older churches in France, probably there are, but when one reads as I did the date 1093 on the facade of a sanctuary he realizes that he is in the presence of an ancient and honorable.

Think what France has lost in the demolition of this church! Here was an edifice that had stood since the day only a few years after the conquest of England by the Norman French. It was over one hundred years old when Richard the Lionheart was fighting Saladin for the possession of the Holy Land. The winds bore to the church tower whispers of the signing of the Magna Charta. It was four centuries old when Columbus set foot on the Island of San Salvador.

Mention has been made of only two towns which today are in a state of desolation like unto that of the Cities of the Plain. There was no excuse for the destruction of these fair old towns of France. Only two have been named.
Multiply the two by 1,000 and the multiplicand will give you close to the number of villages the destruction of which France mourns today, and which Americans may help to rebuild.

FORMING HOME RULE UNION

Some Irish Leaders Consider Republic
Unattainable.

Dublin, June 18.—An influential organization is being formed in Ireland under the name of the "Irish Dominion League." It is composed of men who believe that an Irish republic is unattainable, but think a prompt measure of home rule on the fullest colonial lines is necessary.

A weekly paper, the Irish Statesman, in the interest of the league is to be published. The directors include Sir Horace Plunkett, William Butler Yeats
and T. P. O'Connor.

Where Allies Got Timber.

Timber was essential to military operations, as carried on during the war against the Huns. The chief war theater was northern France and timber was available largely because France had practiced forestry for generations.

One hundred years ago the southwestern corner of France, extending from Bordeaux to the Pyrenees mountains was almost as treeless as the prairie, and was fringed by sand dunes which were constantly in movement, burying fields and houses and even whole villages. Napoleon called in engineers and foresters. These men succeeded in holding the dunes in place by planting with maritime pine;
and then they planted up the whole interior of the region with the same tree.
During the war this region was the largest source of lumber not only for the French army, but for the British and American armies as well.

Many Tyrants.
He was a high school pupil, and was imbibing many bits of philosophy. At home he watched the women folk and the ways they devised for doing as they pleased and for getting every other person to do as they wished them to do. And from these he drew conclusions which he later voiced.

"Times have changed since my history was written," he told his father one night. "Then the tyrants were the men who used to stamp around and kill and frighten people into submission. Today the tyrants have dropped those weapons and use much more subtle ones—tears. I think a woman who cries in order to get her own way is a bigger tyrant than ever those old fellows of long ago were."

Anyway, it set father to work thinking.

Primroses of Picardy.
Nature in her own way is looking after the solitary war graves scattered throughout the shell-shattered Picardy countryside, according to a writer in the London Daily Chronicle. Those that lie in the three-fought-over ground between Albert and Comblès are covered with early spring primroses. In Liermont the daffodils are blooming, and the brambles on the graves in Bernafay wood are green with new leaves. The lonely warriors are to be gathered together in the central cemeteries under the care of the Imperial war graves commission. The French government, in compliance to the British soldier, has purchased the necessary land, and has presented it for all time to England.

Hotel Chateau Thierry.
There is said to be a plot on foot for a large American-managed hotel at Chateau Thierry. If it is built a small bet might be placed that the services of a German-speaking clerk will not be required there on the opening day. Their memories of that section will not be so keenly pleasurable that Germans will return there in great numbers.

SCATTERED SHOT

Picked From Many Targets
By PETER P. CARNEY
E. G. Hinshaw, of Spirit Lake, Ia., has challenged B. P. Elbert of Des Moines, Ia. (holder), to shoot for the world's championship at double targets.

Arthur Sibley is the 1919 trapshooting champion of the Boston Athletic Association.

Fred Clarke, former manager of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club, recently chosen president of the Kansas State Sportsmen's Association, tied with Howard Faurote, of Dallas, Tex., and A. M. Ross, of McAlester, Okla., for first place in the Missouri Handicap in the Missouri State shoot. Each broke 48 out of 50 targets.

The question of a standard load of three drams of powder and an ounce and an eighth of shot is being discussed by the trapshooters. Four States will send representatives to the A. T. A. meeting in November to vote for such a load. They are California, Nevada, Oregon and Arizona.

In passing it is well to mention the fact that Canadian shooters will not be eligible to shoot on the American team to the Olympic games in 1920. Canada in all forms of athletics in the Olympic games must compete under the British flag, so that if the Englishmen are wise they will select an entire Canadian trapshooting team and be in the running for the Olympic championship.

In the Mississippi State shoot Homer Clark broke 395 out of 400 targets and compiled a straight run of 272 the best of the season thus far. The best amateur run is 202 by H. E. Wetzig in the Minks' shoot, in Omaha.

It is only a question of time when the Atlantic City trapshooting school, located on the Million Dollar Pier, will close up. The pier owners have raised the rent to such an extent that the continued promotion of trapshooting there is out of the question. This is the only school of its kind in the world and the closing will be a loss to Atlantic City as well as to those who enjoyed shooting from the pier. Since the school opened three years ago, 20,000 persons have been given instruction in shooting.

The revised trapshooting rules have been put in book form, and anyone desiring a copy of the rules should address the American Trapshooting Association, 460 Fourth avenue, New York, and same will be furnished.

A Great Record.
Gen. John Brown Kerr, who was born in Kentucky seventy-two years ago, was the hero of what the late General Miles declared to be the most daring exploit in the history of Indian warfare. In 1891 Kerr, at the head of a brave band of 20 men, found himself surrounded by more than 100 South Dakota Sioux Indians. Outnumbered five to one, Kerr and his men fought so valiantly and handled their guns with such effect that many of the braves were killed and the remainder surrendered.

THERE ARE STILL A FEW OF THE VETERAN SLUGGERS FACING BIG LEAGUE PITCHERS

One by one the great sluggers who have blazed a trail of hits across the baseball horizon for the last ten or fifteen years are passing along.

Hitters like Hans Wagner and Sam Crawford, for instance, are few and far between these days, but there are still a few of the veteran batters facing major league pitchers today, and one of the most picturesque of the lot is "Cactus" Cravath.

The "Old Cactus" has been playing all actively for sixteen years, and the averages of time have long since begun to show, for Cravath's legs today refuse to carry him around the gardens as they once did, and there are a few prickles of silver on his temples.

Cravath 37 Years Old.
But although Cravath is thirty-seven years of age—having celebrated his thirty-seventh birthday last March—he still ranks as a demon at the bat. Taking a toe hold and swinging from the hip is just as natural to Cravath as it ever was. And National League pitchers tell you that his eye has not been dimmed to any extent by the suns of 6 summers.

Making four hits out of five times at bat is a feat often accomplished in baseball, yet not by one player. Cravath, in his many years of slaughtering the offerings of pitchers, has registered four hits in one day many times. In the opening series between the Giants and Phillies he added another such performance to his long list, and two of the four hits he made in the second game against McGrawmen were doubles.

Ruth Is Hard Hitter.

Babe Ruth is a tremendously hard hitter, but capable as he is with the bludgeon, he will probably never be able to rank as the consistent day-in-and-day-out slugger Cravath has been. Cravath and Wagner were hitters of the Cravath type, or vice versa. Jake Daubert, when at his best, was also a hitter of this select type.

It is a pleasure to pay tribute to a player like the "Old Cactus." His weatherbeaten hide is impervious to the criticisms that have been showered on his head by writers during the last two or three years—kind criticism, sure enough—but the kind that carries predictions which tell fandom that a player is through—and Cravath isn't through yet.

LETTER ASTOUNDS GERMANS

Tone of French Premier's Note Hurts
Foe Envoys.

Wellmar, June 18.—The German peace delegation is astounded at the tone of Premier Clemenceau's note accompanying the Allies' reply to the counter proposals, according to official advices from Versailles received by the government here. The note is characterized as "harsh," "smashing" and "gruff."

The officials declared the reply was less conciliatory even than the Paris press had predicted.

TURKS MEET ALLIED COUNCIL

Peace Delegates Motor to Meeting Place with French Officers.

Paris, June 18.—The council of 10 of the peace conference received the Turkish peace mission in the clock-tower of the Quai d'Orsay. The Turkish delegation, headed by Damad Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, motored from Vaucluse accompanied by French officers.

Buenos Aires Strike Settled.

ALLIES PLAN CONCESSIONS

Modifications May Take Effect if Germany Signs.

Paris, June 18.—Among the concessions contemplated for Germany in case she signs the peace treaty is the use of 20 per cent of her merchant ships for two years. Other such concessions will be permission for her to dispose of her gold reserve and to purchase the minette ores necessary for smelting her own iron ores.

PRESENT PLANS UNCHANGED

All American Troops May Be on Way Home by Aug. 1.

Coblentz, June 18.—American troops along the Rhine will be on their way home before Aug. 1, if the Germans sign the peace treaty, according to present plans.

The Fifth division, now in Luxembourg, would be the first to leave. The other four divisions would entrain at the rate of 6,000 a day.

German Paper Suspends.

Kenosha, Wis., June 18.—The Kenosha Volksfreund, one of the oldest German language newspapers in Wisconsin, was withdrawn from publication with this week's edition. Miss Mathilde Holmes, editor and publisher, in announcing the discontinuance, decided that she believed that the field of the foreign language papers had become so small that she did not care to continue the Kenosha paper. The Volksfreund had been successful and its discontinuance is due to no financial trouble.

Woman Threatens Suit Against Druggist Because He Sold Her Substitute For Nuxated Iron Case Is Brought To Attention of Physicians Who Warn Public

Say That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give The Same Strength Power and Endurance As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron.

With the threat to sue her druggist because he sold her a substitute for genuine Nuxated Iron, the tonic, strength and blood-builder, one woman has set in motion a wave of indignation over the country against a practice which offers such countless dangers to the health and welfare of the public. This woman claims that instead of obtaining increased strength and improved health as she had with the Nuxated Iron, she was seriously upset and in fact became ill as a result of using the substitute. Such instances as these have led physicians mentioned below to emphasize that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron. Those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder should go to their family doctors and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then they should be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon.

There are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained.

Manufacturers' Note. The widespread publication of the above information has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Department) New York and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York physician and medical author; Dr. George H. Baker, formerly physician and surgeon of Monmouth Memorial Hospital, Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, and others so that the public may be informed on this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron is not a mere remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the false imitations from products it is easily assimilated and the stomach. The manufacturer guarantees a successful and entirely satisfactory result to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all druggists.

HISTORY NOT MERE RECORD

Writer, to Set It Down Successfully, Must Use His Constructive Imagination.

There is no commoner cause of historical misjudgment than the tendency to read the events of the past too exclusively in the light of the present, and so twist the cold and unconscious record into the training service of controversial politics. And yet history is inevitably to a great extent a work of the imagination. No good historian is content merely to repeat the record of the past. He has to understand it, to see behind it, to find more in it than it actually says. He cannot understand without the use of his constructive imagination, and he cannot imagine effectively without the use of his experience. I believe it is one of the marks of a great historian to see both present and past, as it were, with the same unclouded eye, to realize the past story as if it were now proceeding before him, and envisage the present much in the same perspective as it will bear when it is as one chapter, or so many pages, in the great volume of the past. We know in Gibbon's case how much the historian of the Roman empire learnt from the captain of the Hampshire grenadiers. And it would surely be folly to tell a man who had lived through the French or Russian revolution to forget his own experience when he came to treat of similar events in history—Gilbert Murray.

Piece of Ancient Meteor.

Meteorites of indicated great age are conspicuous by their absence from museum collections, and it is suggested that such specimens may disintegrate and disappear from the rocks within a relatively short time after falling. The British museum, however, has lately acquired a slice of somewhat less than a pound from a meteoric iron that is believed to represent an ancient fall. The slice is from one of two similar masses that were found in January, 1905, within a few miles of Dawson, Klondike, and that from their position deep in the oldest gravels of the district are thought to have rested there since the Pliocene age or before. From his study of the original specimens in the Museum of the Geological Survey at Ottawa, R. A. A. Johnson concluded that they are part of a single meteoric shower of Tertiary time.

TOPS OF UNBLEACHED MUSLIN

Spreads Are Delightfully Easy to Make and Are Both Decorative and Artistic.

This is the time for some lovely unbleached muslin spreads. They are delightfully easy to make and ever so artistic. Make a square of the muslin (sometimes it is possible to get it wide enough to fashion the entire cover without piecing), and border the square with a three-inch band of colored chambray (rose or blue would be pretty), and then place a motif of the chambray in the center—it matters not how simple it is, though you can make it as handsome as you please. Floral designs are the best, and you will be surprised what pretty flowers you can yourself draw for the purpose. Pencil them upon the center of the spread, or, better yet, pencil them upon paper and cut them out. Then place the paper design upon the spread and draw a pencil line about the edges, thus transferring the pattern to the muslin. Next proceed to place the paper designs over the colored chambray and cut out the chambray accordingly, except that the chambray should extend a good eighth of an inch beyond the paper patterns, for turning in. Next place the center of the cutout chambray designs to the center of the pencilled designs and place a pin in the center to hold them together. Proceed to turn in the edges of the chambray to exactly fit within the designs pencilled upon the muslin and baste them down.

Next applique the chambray permanently to the muslin by an outline stitch of silk or mercerized cotton the color of the chambray. It is a pretty idea, if the design consists of flowers, to make center of French knots in a contrasting color. The stems should be done in an outline stitch of green, unless some other color fits better in to the scheme.

NAVY AND WHITE FOR FALL

Certainly women are wondering about fall headgear. This hat, a new creation for the coming season, is of navy and white taffeta. It is very becoming and youthful.

FINDINGS ADD TO EXPENSE

Home Dressmaker Knows That It Pays to Save Accessories From Discarded Garments.

Findings, these days, may well mount up into several dollars for even a very simple frock, as we soon discover if we attempt a little home dressmaking, either with or without the aid of a seamstress. Belting by the yard, hooks and eyes, snaps, sewing silk, have all advanced enormously, and apparently have no immediate intention of coming down in price.

And so it really is worth while to conserve these accessories of dressmaking in a manner that has not been thought of by American women for many years. But why should we not save them? It hardly ever happens that hooks and eyes and buttons are worn out when a garment is worn out.

Of course if we give the garments away, then it is decidedly inconside rate and a piece of false thrift to rob them of buttons or other fasteners, but if we wear the garment out ourselves—and most of us do nowadays—then we should take care that all findings are taken out before the garment goes into the rag bag.

And so the gentle art of ripping may be revived. We may find it expedient to rip apart wornout silk frocks in search of the pieces of good silk that can be used to make the top of a silk petticoat, or parts of a white summer frock; for pieces of sheer material that can be washed and freshened to use in making linings to frocks later on.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Paris is shortening her skirts. Looped silk in silk or wool is popular.

Separate skirts are assuming an important position in woman's wardrobe.

There is a revival of the lace parol of grandmother's days. One striking one has black lace mounted over green taffeta.

Headdresses of all sorts are popular and are worn low on the head, covering the entire brow and quite often the eyebrows.

SIMPLY COULD NOT FORGET

Macaulay's Memory Could Only Be Described as Marvelous—John Bright a Close Second.

Talking of quickness in repartee a story of Sydney Smith was cited I had not yet heard. "Do tell me, Mr. Smith," exclaimed a rather gushing young lady, "what is dogmatism?" "My dear young lady," he replied, "dogmatism is only puppyism grown older."

I remember at breakfast one day at my father's, Lord Macaulay began to repeat some trashy old historical ballads, and so went on verse after verse until my father exclaimed, "Why, Macaulay, how can you have committed all that rubbish to memory? What utter waste of time!" "Committed to memory!" cried Macaulay. "I only wish I could forget it. I simply glanced over those verses when standing at a bookstall one day." If I remember rightly, he said at the same time that if the first four books of Milton's "Paradise Lost" were destroyed, he could reproduce them word for word. . . .

Mr. Bright and Mr. Longfellow met each other for the first time at our breakfast table and were mightily delighted with each other. Again the conversation turned upon memory, and John Bright asked Mr. Longfellow whether he could identify and claim every line of poetry he had ever written. Mr. Longfellow thought he could not. Then he in turn put the question—would Mr. Bright be able to identify every one of the speeches he had made? "Yes," said Mr. Bright, "not every passage, perhaps, taken by itself, but given a certain amount of the context I undoubtedly could."—From "The Notebook of a Spinster Lady."

MONEY IN THE FARMER'S POCKET

California has long been celebrated for its excellent roadways—but California is by no means satisfied with what she has, says the St. Paul Dispatch. On July 1, Californians will vote at a special election, which has been called by the governor, to authorize the expenditure of the huge sum of $40,000,000 for the completion of the highway systems of that state. That Californians will approve the measure is regarded as certain. They are so intent upon it that they do not propose to wait for the regular election, but ask a special election in order that the work may be begun at the earliest possible moment.

One of the most interesting phases of post-bellum reconstruction is the mounting public concern in the matter of good roads. During the next five or six years a sum running high into the hundreds of millions of dollars will be spent in the United States for paving highways. Pennsylvania is spending $50,000,000, Illinois $60,000,000 and here in Minnesota, if the amendment passed by the last session of the legislature is approved by the people, we shall spend in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 on a great network of paved roadways 6,000 miles in length. We could not afford to do less. As compared with the roads of California, Florida, Illinois and Pennsylvania ours are very poor, no state needs relief more sorely than ours.

Good roads, of course, mean the attraction to Minnesota of profitable tourists travel—but they mean far more than this. Last September at Cleveland a test was made of several two-ton trucks on paved and unpaved roads. Each truck, fully loaded, traveled 100 miles on 8.49 gallons of gasoline over the paved road. The cost for gasoline at 25 cents a gallon, was $2.12. Over the plain dirt road these trucks traveled a similar distance on 17.30 gallons each, the cost for gasoline being $4.33, on an increase of more than 100 per cent.

Every time you drive a mile on a dirt road, you use twice as much gasoline as when you travel on a paved surface. At this rate, it would not take several million automobiles long to save the entire sum to be spent on hard-surfaced American roads. And these figures, of course, take no account of the tire economy obtained on hard surfaced roads. The average tire will probably duplicate the economy effected in the matter of gasoline. The farmer who is interested in moving his produce to market speedily and cheaply is first to realize the desirability of extending city paving into the country districts. It means money in his pocket—and under the Minnesota system, the cost is to be paid by the motor cars.

She Feels Younger and Stronger

Mid-aged and older persons are apt to suffer from overworked or weakened kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Warren Dyer, Arkport, N. Y., writes: "I used Foley Kidney Pills for weak kidneys and pains in my back, and they gave me relief. After taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel younger and stronger." H. P. Dunn. mwf

Avoid Becoming Household Slave.

Being a martyr to duty sounds thrilling and looks well in print, but in everyday life such a role soon loses its charm. Therefore the woman who spends herself in ways that bring her back absolutely no return should right about face, take time for an occasional outing, and learn to keep in touch with what is transpiring in the great world around her. If she hopes to find her family appreciative she will certainly resolve to act on this suggestion, for it invariably happens that the mother who becomes a household slave receives little, if any, thanks at all from those for whom she toils unceasingly.—Exchange.

PEACE OR WAR LEFT TO ENEMY

Allies Deliver Final Ultimatum To Germans and Decision Rests With Them.

GUILTY MUST SUFFER

Their Punishment Is Necessary to Deter Others in Future, Says Reply of Allies to Counter-proposals of Foe.

Paris, June 18.—The detailed reply of the peace conference to the counter-proposals of the Germans, which was handed to the German delegation at Versailles, takes up in its order each of the objections made by the enemy to the provisions of the original peace treaty.

Among the modifications to the treaty which are accorded to by the conference are frontier rectifications for West Prussia; a plebiscite in Upper Silesia, with a guaranty to Germany that she will receive fair treatment in securing mineral products from that region; modifications in the clauses relating to finance, economic and waterways phases of the treaty; permission for Germany to retain 200,000 men in its army temporarily and a promise to furnish Germany within a month with a full list of the persons who are to be tried for responsibility for the great conflict and violations of the laws of war.

War Was Deliberate Act.

Taking up the subject of penalties, the reply enters into a discussion of the immediate cause of the war and says that the conflict was brought about through the "decision, deliberately taken, of the statesmen of Berlin, Vienna and Budapest." It is pointed out that even the German memorandum admits that Germany authorized Austria-Hungary to settle the Serbian question on her own initiative and, moreover, supported Austria's rejection of Serbia's "extraordinary concessions."

It is declared that Germany steadily rejected every proposal for a conference and did not urge moderation till all hope of avoiding war had vanished. German attempts to throw the blame on Russia, because of her mobilization of her army, it is pointed out, is vitiated by the fact that this mobilization was the immediate result of Austria's action.

"But the outbreak of the war," the reply says, "was no sudden decision taken in a difficult crisis. It was the logical outcome of a policy of domination, aggression and war followed by Germany for decades. Hypnotized by Bismarck's spirit of blood and iron, Germany set about sowing suspicion and discord among the nations, conspiring with elements of unrest in every land, steadily increasing armaments and mobilizing the universities, press, pulpit and governmental authority to indoctrinate the gospel of hatred and force. The essential truth of these charges is admitted by the Germans themselves through their revolution."

Punishment Essential.
 "The war was a crime deliberately plotted against the life and liberties of the people of Europe. It brought death and mutilation to millions. Starvation, unemployment and disease stalk across the continent from end to end. The punishment of those responsible for bringing on these calamities is essential on the score of justice and as a deterrent for others who may be tempted to follow their example."

The Allies, it is declared, will stand by the verdict of history for the impartiality and justice with which the accused will be tried. The accused will be insured full rights of defense and the judgment of the tribunal will have the most solemn judicial character. The Allied and Associated Powers are prepared to submit a final list of those who must be handed over to justice within one month of the signing of the treaty.

Problem of Reparations.
 The problem of reparations is of such extraordinary magnitude and complexity that it can be solved only by a continuing body, limited in personnel and invested with broad powers. The reparation commission, the reply declares, is instructed to exercise its powers so as to insure in the interest of all as early and complete a discharge by Germany of her reparations obligations as is consistent with the true maintenance of the social, economic and financial structure of Germany.

Germans Have Four Months.

The powers are willing that within four months of the signature of the treaty Germany may submit any proposals she may choose to make. In particular, she may offer a lump sum for all or part of her liability, undertake to reconstruct all or part of a damaged district, offer labor, technical service or material for reconstruction, or, in short, suggest any feasible plan.

Trouble Officer Provided.

Washington, June 18.—Postmaster General Burleson has just issued an order requiring telephone companies under government control to designate an officer or officers to whom complaints may be presented by employees or their representatives. Mr. Burleson explained that representations had been made to the wire control board that employees having grievances often were left in doubt as to whom they should be presented to.

to simplify the assessment of damage, eliminate any question from the scope of the inquiry, promote the performance of the work or accelerate the definition of the ultimate amount to be paid. Germany must, however, negotiate directly with the powers concerned before making the proposals, submit them in unambiguous form and accept the reparation clauses as matters beyond dispute. No arguments or appeals directed to any alteration will be entertained.

Within two months thereafter the Allied and Associated Powers will answer such proposals and agree to consider seriously and fairly suggestions made. It is said the problem is largely one of statistics, of which the powers have received but one side. Germany is invited to produce evidence which will accelerate final decision.

Teuton Proposal Rejected.

The reply says that the Germans made no definite offer as to reparations but "gave only vague expressions of willingness to do something."

The sum of 100,000,000,000 marks, which was mentioned in the enemy counterproposal, is said to give the impression of an extensive offer which upon examination it proves not to be. Interest was not to be paid and until 1928 there would be no substantial payment, after which there could be a series of undefined installments running over half a century. Declaring that the resumption of German industry is of interest to the Allies as well as to Germany, the reply declares that commercial facilities will not be withheld from Germany, but they will afford to Germany facilities for food supplies, raw materials and overseas transport, under conditions "which cannot be laid down in advance."

"Meanwhile the treaty must be signed," the reply declares. "The burdens of Germany undoubtedly are heavy, but they are imposed under conditions of justice by peoples whose social well being and economic prosperity have been gravely impaired by wrongs which it is beyond the utmost power of Germany to repair."

Germany Must Pay.

Germany must pay the expenses of military occupation, as an essential guaranty of peace, and war material surrendered after the armistice cannot be credited against reparation. Liberated territories will bear their portion of the prewar debt but will not assume any part of the war debt itself.

Consular relations are not reciprocally established, owing to the war activity of German consuls. Private property of Germans abroad may be justly used to meet reparation charges. The property of German institutions for research and education, it is held, "cannot be immune in the light of their past activities."

The German proposals relative to aerial navigation have not been accepted.

The two notes already sent in reply to the German notes relative to labor clauses of the treaty are said to cover this subject.

Military occupation by the Allies will continue as a guaranty for the execution of the treaty. There also will be constituted a civilian body called the Inter-Allied Rhineland high commission, consisting of four members representing Belgium, France, Great Britain and the United States.

League of Nations.

With regard to the League of Nations it is stated that the Allied and Associated Powers have never had the intention of definitely excluding Germany or any other power from membership and that every country whose government has proved its stability and its desire to observe international obligations will be supported in its demands for admission.

It adds that in Germany's case, the events of the past five years prove the need of a definite test, the length of which will depend on the acts of the German government.

Part three of the reply deals with European political clauses. It says the territories of Eupen and Malmédy have continued in close relation with Belgium, despite a century of Prussianization, and that the reunion of these territories with Belgium seems justified. The communal woods in Prussian Moravia are awarded to Belgium in partial compensation for the destruction of Belgian forests.

Concerning Alsace-Lorraine, the reply says a plebiscite cannot be admitted because the whole purpose of the provisions in regard to these provinces has been, so far as possible, to repair the injustice committed in 1871 and to restore the situation then prevailing as far as it is possible after 50 years of suffering.

The other parts of the detailed reply deal with the principles to be followed in determining the eastern frontiers of Germany, and concerning Luxembourg, Austria and Russia. It is stated that it has been determined to re-establish the Polish state; that the German observations regarding Luxembourg require no answer because of Germany's violation of Luxembourg's neutrality and Luxembourg's denunciation of the eastern union. None of the German contentions with regard to Russia are considered to require a change in the treaty.

Accused of Stealing 500 Sheep.

Dillon, Mont., June 18.—Men giving their names as Steve Johns and Gus Lura, are said by the authorities to have confessed to be the pair who drugged a sheepherder near here some days ago and made off with his flock, consisting of 500 animals. The sheep were recovered a day or two later. The robbery was the boldest of the sort in the annals of the state. It is thought the thieves were trying to run the sheep into Idaho for illicit butchering there.

WOMEN PREY OF LONELINESS

London Writer Says That Is the Cause of Their Tireless and Ceaseless Toil.

Men are amazingly and amusingly ignorant with respect to the mysterious life led by their mothers, wives, daughters and aunts. For years at a time a man may go on blindly with his work and his play and remain in total ignorance about the activities of these inexplicable beings. He is dimly and dubiously aware that they are not idle. In his paroxysms of intuition he guesses that his comfort and even his happiness in some fashion may depend upon their labors. But the greater part of his existence is passed in a sublime ignoring of all the immense miracles wrought by women every day of his life.

I have come to the conclusion that women are the loneliest of God's creatures, and that their loneliness is the great first cause of their tireless and ceaseless toil, James Douglas writes in London Opinion. Nearly every woman goes about with a lonely look on her face and the older she grows the lonelier she looks. There are very few lonely men, for men are gregarious. They are also, upon the whole, less imaginative than women. They live more on the surface. They do not possess that quality of power of living a secret inner life of contemplation and broodingly retrospective passion. Men live in and for the hour; women live in and for the past and the future. They are at war with their environment. Like Nora in "The Doll's House," they are always waiting for the miracle to happen. One seldom sees the print of tragic intensity on a man's face. One seldom sees anything else on a woman's. It is this veiled tumult of the soul that drives women into frantic and feverish labors.

MUCH LIKE LIFE'S PATHWAY

Effective Parable in Edward Everett Hale's Description of Doings of a Picnic Party.

You all go out to a picnic, and meet together in some pleasant place in the woods, and you put down the baskets there, and leave the path with the ice in the handiest place you can find, and cover it with the blanket. Then you all set out in the great forest. But it is only a few of the party who choose to start hand in hand along a gravel path which leads straight to the well, and probably those few enjoy less and gain less from the day's excursion than any of the rest. The rest break up into indifferent knots, and go some here, some there, as their occasion and their genius call them. Some go after flowers, some after berries, some after butterflies; some knock the rocks to pieces; some climb up to where there is a fine view, some sit down and copy the stumps, some go into the water, some make a fire, some find a camp of Indians and learn to make baskets. These all come back to the picnic camp in good order each eager to tell what he has seen and heard, each having satisfied his taste and genius and each and all having made vastly more of their day than if they had held to the gravel path and walked in column to the well and back again.—Edward Everett Hale.

Eats a Thousand Insects a Day.

"A cliff swallow will eat a thousand flies, mosquitoes, wheat midges or beetles that injure fruit trees in a day and therefore is to be encouraged," says the American Forestry association of Washington.

"This bird is also known as the cave swallow, because it plasters its nest on the outside of a barn or other building up under the eaves. Colonies of several thousand will build their nests together on the side of a cliff. These nests shaped like a flattened gourd or water bottle are made of bits of clay rolled into pellets and lined with straw or feathers. This bird winters in the tropics."

LITTLE CHANGED BY TIME

Dwellers in Mountains of Tyrol Live in Much the Same Way as Did Their Ancestors.

The mountains of Tyrol shelter one of the few remaining unspoiled peasant people of Europe—a people that wears a native costume, remembers its folk legends and follows customs centuries old. The mountain Tyrolese are robust, hard-working folk. Life in the mountains demands work from every member of the household from daybreak until after dark. Then, on winter nights, the Tyrolese peasants play. Dancing is a favorite amusement after the day's work, and this is all the more surprising because the dances of Tyrol are more strenuous than those of Russia or Poland. To swing your partner up to the ceiling, and to fall down and spring up again without using the hands for support are among the "steps" of a good dancer's repertoire.

While the dancing couple excitedly swing and caper, the others sing and play the zither, the favorite Tyrolese musical instrument. Original songs are in high favor, and also the old folk songs of princes and peasants, shepherdesses and huntsmen. The peasants sing lustily and well. Only a realization of tomorrow's work puts an end to the affair, and sends guests trooping home still whistling or humming the last song.

A Stranger in the Woods.

Years ago, when quite a youth, I was rambling in the woods one Sunday with my brothers, gathering black birch, wintergreens, etc., when, as we reclined upon the ground, gazing vaguely up into the trees, I caught sight of a bird that paused a moment on a branch above me, the like of which I had never before seen or heard of. It was probably the blue yellow-backed warbler, as I have since found this to be a common bird in those woods; but to my young fancy it seemed like some fairy bird, so curiously marked was it, and so new and unexpected. It seemed like an integral part of the green beech woods. I saw it a moment as the flickering leaves parted, noted the white spot in its wing, and it was gone. How the thought of it clung to me afterward! It was a revelation. It was the first intimation I had had that the woods we knew so well held birds that we knew not at all.—John Burroughs.

Two Hundred Years Ago.

"And herein it is that I take upon me to make such a bold assertion that all the world are mistaken in their practice about women; for I cannot think that God Almighty made them . . . so glorious creatures . . . with souls capable of the same accomplishments with men, and all to be only stewards of our houses, cooks, and slaves." This advanced doctrine, which in its climax sounds somewhat as if it were uttered in a present day convention, was written, as is noted in a recent book on English literature, some two hundred years ago, by Daniel Defoe.—Outlook.

Coconut Palm the Tropical Cow.

Copra consists of the dried meats of coconuts. It contains from 50 to 63 per cent of oil.

In India, Cochinchina, the South Sea Islands and elsewhere the oil has been used as food since the dawn of history, for the fats contained in it are singularly like the milk fats of mammals in most respects. It is already in wide use in this country as "nut margarine," which is coconut oil into which some butter has been melted and the whole churned with skim milk—that is, milk with the fats removed—and worked as ordinary butter.

At the End—Youth.
 If I had created men and women, I should have framed them on a type widely different from that which has actually prevailed—that of the higher mammals. I should have made men and women, not to resemble the great apes as they do, but on the models of insects which, after a life as caterpillars, change into butterflies, and for the brief final term of their existence have no thought but to love and be lovely. I should have set youth at the end of the human span.—From "The Garden of Epicurus," by Anatole France.

Also a vote of thanks was tendered the Brainerd Hardware Co. for dining the firemen at Garvey's restaurant for services rendered by them at the same fire.

He Threw Away His Crutches

"Six years ago I had rheumatism so bad I was going on crutches," writes August Strandell, Sister Bay, Wis. "I tried several medicines and doctors and got no relief. Three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me. I threw away my crutches. Have no equal for weak, sore, aching back, muscles or joints." H. J. Dunn.

The Greeks.

"It is impossible to contemplate the annals of Greek literature and art without being struck with them, as by far the most extraordinary and brilliant phenomena in the history of the human mind. The very language, even in its primitive simplicity, as it came down from the rhapsodists who celebrated the exploits of Hercules and Theseus, was as great a wonder as any it records. All the other tongues that civilized man has spoken are poor and feeble, and barbarous, in comparison with it. Its compass and flexibility, its riches and its powers are altogether unlimited. It not only expresses with precision all that is thought or known at any given period, but it enlarges itself naturally, with the progress of science, and affords, as if without an effort, a new phrase, or a systematic nomenclature whenever one is called for.—Thomas Keightley.

It is All Gone Now

Samuel L. Kramer, Box 95, Sellersville, Pa., writes: "I had kidney trouble for two years and had a terrible backache. That is all gone now after using Foley Kidney Pills and I feel well again." Foley Kidney Pills get results quickly and are tonic in their healing and soothing effect. H. P. Dunn.

REGISTER YOUR CAR AFTER JULY 1

Recent Legislature Enacted a Law That is of Vital Importance to All Car Owners

PROTECTS SAME FROM THEFT

After Date Named No Car Can be Sold or Licensed Without Exhibiting Certificate of Title

The recent legislature enacted a law that is of vital importance to all auto and vehicle owners in the state of Minnesota, the object of which is to protect the owners of such vehicles against the loss of their cars by theft. The seeming intention of the legislators in passing the law was to have every car and engine number registered with the register of deeds of the county wherein the car is to be kept or maintained for a period of over thirty days. Some attorneys interpret the law to mean that such registration need not necessarily be made until applying for a new license (when a copy of such registration must accompany the application to the Secretary of State) or when a car is sold or transferred, in which case, it must first be registered.

Severe penalty is provided for any attempted violation of this act which takes effect July 1, 1919, after which date no car shall be sold or licensed without exhibiting this certificate of title. While it seems it is not compulsory for owners who are not selling or renewing license to register their cars, yet it is advisable to do so as in so doing you are getting the full benefit of the law now and the protection intended to be provided by the legislature. When the law is in full operation every driver of an automobile must have a certificate of ownership bearing his signature, which certificate may be called for by any officer having suspicion that you might not be the rightful owner, such officer is also given the right to enter any building or garage for the purpose of making a search for any suspect or car.

The sooner all cars are registered the sooner will the law be effective as a safeguard against theft. The certificate will have to be procured some time at the small cost of 50c, so it seems to be advisable to do it now. Blanks will be furnished by the register of deeds and the certificates in triplicate, one to remain on file in his office and two to be returned to the owner, one of which must go to the Secretary of State to be retained by him when issuing a new license and the third to be at all times kept by the owner.

MEXICO MAY FILE PROTEST

Officials Consider Invasion Violated Sovereignty.

Washington, June 18.—The government and people of Mexico consider as a violation of Mexican sovereignty the crossing of United States soldiers into Mexican territory. Gen. Candido Aguilar, confidential ambassador of President Carranza, declared in a formal statement at the Mexican embassy.

However, after a conference at the State department with Henry P. Fletcher, ambassador to Mexico, Dr. Rojo, the Mexican charge, said he had presented no protest to the American government and that he had received no instructions from his government to make one.

Suspense Worse Than Attack.

There are sailors who will tell you that the actual torpedoing of a vessel was not very much worse than the suspense and the many false alarms—any of which might have proved to be an enemy submarine. A merchant captain was looking out to sea one day, when in the distance he thought he saw something dark and round. He watched to see whether it would move. It did move, and then suddenly it dived. There was no time to do anything, since he did not know from what direction the torpedo might come. He waited. To his horror the dark, round object rose from the waves only 30 yards away from the boat. He said it was the worst moment in his life until he realized, on further inspection that the "periscope" was in actual fact a large seal with a dirty yellow neck and a full crop of whiskers.

COMES HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Had Wide Experience in Different Phases of Christian Work—Is of Pleasing Personality

Rev. A. C. Smith, who will preach at both morning and evening services of the First Baptist church, is coming to Brainerd at the invitation of the church as a prospective pastor and for this reason a large attendance of both the church members and friends is earnestly desired.

Mr. Smith, who was pastor at La Porte, Indiana, and Omaha, Neb., comes to Brainerd very highly recommended. He has also been camp pastor at Ft. He is now engaged in war work at Omaha, meeting the boys as they come in to be mustered out.

Mr. Smith has had a wide experience in different phases of Christian work and is a man of pleasing personality who would like to meet as many of the Brainerd people as possible next Sunday at both services.

IT'S FOOLISH TO SUFFER

When So Many Brainerd People are Pointing the Way Out

You may be brave enough to stand backache or headache or dizziness. But, if, in addition urination is disordered, look out! ## CONVERSION OF SOLDIER INSURANCE

To the Soldiers.

The Chairman of Home Service Section, Brainerd Chapter A. R. C., Elmer G. Carlson, has received blanks and information concerning conversion of soldier's insurance.

The Government wants the soldiers to keep their present insurance as long as possible until the proper arrangements have been made. On the grounds that the soldiers can now have the conversion blanks filled out on the following grounds:

First—When the applicant is financially able to convert the full amount of his insurance.

Second—When the applicant has no beneficiary within the permitted class. (After insurance is converted it is payable to deceased's estate when there are no beneficiaries within the permitted class.)

Third—When applicant cannot be persuaded to hold off conversion and will probably drop his insurance all together unless he is allowed to convert immediately.

Further recommended before soldiers making this application should write the Bureau for information about his standing.

ELMER G. CARLSON,
Chairman Home Service Section
Brainerd Chapter A. R. C.

STRIKE LEADERS TAKEN

Winnipeg Agitators Arrested and Spirited Away.

Bolshevist Literature Reported Seized When Government Police Officials Raid Quarters.

Winnipeg, June 18.—Government police officials arrested ten strike leaders in their homes here and took them in automobiles to some place in the country, presumably Stormy Mountain. Other arrests are reported to have been made in Calgary and other western points at the same time.

Bolshevist Literature Found.

Simultaneously the Royal Northwest Mounted police raided the Labor Temple from which the strike has been conducted. Much literature, said to be of a bolshevist nature, was seized. The police broke down doors and windows during the raid.

The official list of the men taken into custody includes the following:

R. B. Russell, secretary of the Metal Trades Council, said to be the real leader of the strike; Rev. William Ivens, editor of the Western Labor News and pastor of the Labor church; R. E. Bray, leader of the strike parades which visited the parliament buildings; Alderman John Queen, advertising manager of the Western Labor News; Alderman A. A. Heaps, George W. Armstrong and four Russian agitators.

Postal Strike Defeated.

The government has met the strike of postal employees in Winnipeg successfully. Before the postal workers walked out on May 15, there were 509 men on the list. About 429 veterans and newly hired employees are now on duty, it was stated.

Freight yards here were crippled when a number of firemen, switchmen and engine men joined the general strike. Passenger service was still practically normal.

The back to work movement continued, but not in such large numbers as last week. One milk company resumed house to house delivery.

SCORES WARTIME DRY LAW

Former Senator Root Says Congress Exceeded Its Powers.

New York, June 18.—Elihu Root declared "Congress exceeded its powers" in enacting the war-time prohibition act, and that the Collector of Internal Revenue "holds the brewers of the United States in the hollow of his hand." In the course of his argument against the government's appeal to set aside the temporary injunction granted a month ago by Federal Judges Hand and Mayer.

Why do people sleep

Remember the morning you woke up with a feeling that you really had been sound asleep all night? Never felt so well before! Nor looked so fresh and rested—nor got things done so easily.

IT WAS the deep sleep that did it. Nothing keeps us looking so young or feeling so vigorous as enough deep, restful sleep—every nerve and muscle relaxed. Do you ever really relax? The chances are you don't. No matter what you do to bring sleep, you will never sleep sound unless your bed invites perfect relaxation. Thousands who for years have been "light sleepers"—waking at every sound—sleep the night through on a Simmons Bed.

Why the Simmons Bed?

The Simmons Metal Bed is strong and rigid where the average bed is weakest—in the corner locks.

These are some of the Simmons basic patents—the pressed steel corner locks—they have much longer locking surfaces than you find in the average bed. In fact, it is the pressed steel corner locks that have made possible the Simmons new Three-piece Bed—the spring made in a single unit with the side rails.

Don't Blame Your Mattress for the Faults of Your Spring!

Everybody knows the spring that slackens and lets the sleeper roll into a hollow—or creaks with the slightest movement—or that does not fit four-square and firm on the bed, and knocks and rattles.

The Simmons Slumber King Spring is taut, but elastic—never slack. It gives to the contours of the body—supports the spine in any sleeping position—is noiseless, invites relaxation, and promotes natural, restful sleep.

Finished smooth—can't tear ticking of mattress. The entire spring has a rust-proof oxidized-silver finish.

Simmons Beds are Made in All Sizes and Styles

Full double—Three-quarter—Full single—Standard single—and Twin Beds.

You will find a range of styles to select from in brass, and in enamel with and without brass trimmings.

Simmons styles are good. Whatever your bedroom decoration scheme, you will find a Simmons Bed that "belongs."

Beautifully finished. Lacquer, perfect. Enamel free from pin-holes, blisters and lumps—clear and smooth.

Your choice of white, cream and delicate tones of colors in vogue for interiors today.

And now with regard to the unusual variety of TWIN BEDS

Nice people everywhere are discovering that a separate bed for each person is a great aid toward perfect rest and sound health.

One sleeper does not disturb the other. Colds, sore throat, and other infections are not communicated. And one sleeper does not draw on the vitality of the other.

Simmons Beds will cost you little if any more than the general run of metal beds. They are worth more—much more.

Come in and let us show them to you.

Palm's Many Uses.

The carnauba palm of Brazil, like the banana of Asia, serves varied purposes. Young leaves are coated with the wax that is normally made into candles and gramophone records. Older leaves yield a good fiber, which is prized for mats, hats and hammocks. They also form roofs for cabins or huts, and the trunk supplies timber for the structures and for fine cabinet work. The root is employed in medicine. The tree's fruit is food for man and farm stock, another plant part supplies a kind of sugar; the seeds are not only rich in oil but are roasted as a coffee substitute, and young leaves are eaten like cabbage. A nutritive portion of the pith is fermented into a pleasing drink.

PETROGRAD YIELDS TO ALLIES

Outer Districts of City Have Been Practically Reduced.

Stockholm, June 18.—The outer defenses of Petrograd have practically been reduced and Allied forces are advancing upon the former Russian capital, according to dispatches received from Helsingfors.

Kronstadt, the great naval base lying 30 miles west of Petrograd, was set fire by artillery bombardment, it was reported. Shortly afterward seven bolshevik warships left their anchorage and surrendered to the British squadron. At about the same time the big fortress of Krasnaya Gorka hoisted the white flag, followed by several
